We've already seen a number of different solar powered chargers and phones in the past. Relying on wind energy, however, isn't as easy. To be fair, French Orange tried to experiment with this form of renewable energy back in 2007 but their windmill was everything but portable. Now have a new project created by UT Arlington researchers, Smitha Rao and J.C. Chiao, that [project] involves tiny windmills which in theory could be attached to a phone sleeve. This small wind farm should then be able to provide juice for your ... Read more

A promotional advertisement for the Samsung Galaxy S4. It features two smartphones, one black and one white, displaying the time 12:45. To the right, text reads "Samsung Galaxy S® 4" and "FREE Orange Protective Flip Cover" with a starburst graphic indicating "$40 VALUE". Below this, it says "*Limited Quantities Available." At the bottom, logos for Verizon, Sprint, and T-Mobile are shown, along with a green "Shop Now" button. The bottom section of the ad features the "WIREFLY" logo with "SINCE 2003" and the tagline "The Internet's #1 Wireless Superstore".Full Summary »
