Net-Centric Software and Systems
Industry/University Cooperative Research Center

About NSF I/UCRC Centers

NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Centers aim to promote cooperative research between industry and universities. The main objectives of the centers are:

- to pursue fundamental engineering and scientific research having industrial relevance
- to produce graduates who have a broad, industry-oriented perspective of their research and practice
- to accelerate and promote the transfer of knowledge and technology between university and industry

The centers are funded primarily with industrial memberships.

About Net-Centric I/UCRC

The research focus of this center is the design, implementation and deployment of highly dependable software and systems in a Net-Centric environment.

Current industrial members of the Net-Centric Software and Systems IUCRC are: Boeing, Cisco, Codekko, EDS/HP, Fujitsu, GlobeRanger, Hall Financials, Lockheed-Martin Aero, Raytheon, Texas Instruments and T-Systems.

Current academic members of the Net-Centric Software and Systems IUCRC are: the University of North Texas, the University of Texas at Dallas and Southern Methodist University.
